Year:
2009

Address:
Rue Jeanne d'Arc. 51210

Program:
Transformation of a Fireman station into a communal reception hall and a gymnasium

Project management:
Mairie de Montmirail

Project manager:
Goudchaux Architecte & Associés

Mission:
Mission de base

Area:
325 m²

Originally this building had been built for livestock fairs, and then modified, in the 1980s to be a fire-station, it has now been rebuilt as a multipurpose municipal hall.

The main façade has been enhanced with a semi-circular frontage facing the Town Hall.

The facing strips in terra cotta modules, acting as sunshades, have reinstated the scale of the building. The building is now in full accordance with the rhythm of the street and that of the Town.
